Being an attorney and having served in various capacities in local governments for many years, I have an understanding of how government agencies work. Additionally I have owned property in each of the cities in which I lived and kept abreast of how those cities were developed. Since moving to Brentwood in 2014, I have followed the workings of the City Council and the Planning Commission and feel I have an understanding of their workings. In all of my volunteer positions, I have tried to be open-minded, calm and rational and work collaboratively to solve problems or make decisions.
